

MICHELE ZIOSI

Since 2014 Michele Ziosi is Head of Institutional Relations in Europe, Middle East, Africa and Asia Pacific of CNH Industrial, global leader in the capital goods sector that designs, produces and sells agricultural (New Holland Agriculture; Case IH) and construction equipment (Case and New Holland Construction), trucks, commercial vehicles, buses (Iveco; IvecoBus) and specialty vehicles, in addition to a broad portfolio of powertrain applications (FPT Industrial).

Before joining CNH Industrial, Mr. Ziosi was Head of Institutional Relations and Regulatory affairs at Philip Morris Italy. His responsibilities included the development, management and implementation of regulatory affairs strategy with special focus on national and EU regulations, WTO/Free Trade Agreement, market access of innovative new generation products.

Previously, Mr. Ziosi was Responsible for Local Public, Government and Regulatory Affairs for Fiat Group Automobiles (FGA) Spa in Rome and manager of European Institutional Relations at the Fiat Group Representative Office to EU in Bruxelles.

For many years Mr. Ziosi led the Italian Association of Natural gas for transport (NGV System Italia).

Michele Ziosi was born in Italy where he studied Management Engineering. After his studies he joined the Fiat Group working as Project Manager for CNH in Berlin and as Business Development Manager for FPT Industrial in Lyon.